FINAL THOUGHTS:

On Friday, January 28, I presented the "State of the School Address to the Entire Student Body, Faculty and Staff. I praised all for their efforts and reminded all of us that as a new semester begins it is also a time to refresh ourselves in many ways. I spoke about the entire school's Generosity, Kindness, Academic and Social achievements, School Spirit and Pride, our Uniform, Academic Integrity, Spiritual Opportunities, Discipline, Respect for one another, and Handbook rules. I really enjoyed this opportunity to speak to over 2300 students and 250 staff members in such a great setting, calling to mind Saint Elizabeth Ann Seton, Foundress of Catholic Education in America.
