Library News

- This week, Mrs. Larson will be visiting with Mrs. Disilvestre's English Class for a lesson on researching using Databases offered through our Library Resources. Students/Faculty/Staff who wish to learn how to use Gale or Jstor Databases please see any of our Library Staff for assistance. These resources are free to use for your academic or personal pursuits. Although these programs have built in citation tools, we offer an easy to follow citation guide (including the use of AI) for anyone that might find that information useful. This item is posted in our student Library Google Classrooms and on the Teacher Resource Page. If you need help to access these locations, please let us know.
- As always, all staff, faculty and students are welcome to any of our resources! Contact us at library@stanthonys.shs.org, stop in, or call x 279 for assistance. Remember you have 24/7 access to Accessit.

JUST A REMINDER THAT FOOD AND DRINK (other than water) ARE NOT ALLOWED IN THE LIBRARY

BROTHER'S FINAL THOUGHTS

Happy New Year!!!! I trust you all had a great Christmas and enjoyed time with family and friends. Well, we are right back at school and in the midst of January Madness. Accepted Student Nights for the Class of 2028, the Winter Art Show, the National Honor Society Variety Show, and a Special Night featuring Sophomore Mariano Schwartz as he helps Raise Funds for our Padre Pio Fund. This coming TUESDAY we are sponsoring a special dress down day to assist our Sister School, Saint Francis Middle School in Kenya, Africa with the hope of attaining a school bus to transport students to school. I ask that we all partake and be generous. The month proves to be very busy along with the usual amount of games, club meetings and the end of the marking period. It seems like the school never really sleeps and in reality that is a good thing. It allows all of us to be involved in unique and memorable experiences. Please make good use of all that is offered here this month. I know I will be seeing you at some of these events.
